All car policies are the same . . .
it's who you buy from
that counts!

It's a fact! Under British Columbia law, the printed conditions of every car insurance policy are identical. They all offer the same features. However, when you buy it through a qualified insurance agent or broker who is an independent businessman, you not only get protection but year 'round service as well!

Your insurance agent works hard to save you time, money and worry, and he's ready to assist you the moment you call. He can help you select the coverages that best suit your requirements and adapt the policy to your particular needs.

In case of loss, just phone your agent. He will know what to do. His personal guidance and years of experience can be of real help to you.

Consult your agent or broker regarding all your insurance problems.

Arena commissioners not in favor of taking over operation of senior hockey in the Okanagan

Representatives of four Okanagan arenas are not in favor of arena commissioners taking over the operation of senior hockey clubs.

This was the highlight of a meeting of arena commissioners and civic representatives held in Armstrong last week. The arena commissioners agreed a realistic minimum rental should be charged senior hockey clubs for league and exhibition games, but the rental should be on the basis of facilities only. The hockey clubs would have to handle ticket sales, doormen, ushers and pay for advertising and other promotional work.

At the same time it was urged that hockey club executives work together with a view of putting the sport on a controlled expenditure basis in order that Canada's national sport can survive in the Okanagan.

AMUSEMENT TAX
Commissioners were also critical over the 15 percent provincial amusement tax which they claim is killing hockey and other sport attractions. Suggestion was also made that comparative financial statements of the four hockey clubs be made available to the press covering a seven-year period.

The financial statement submitted by Kelowna arena representatives, showed comparative figures for the four plants, based on a three-year average, 1952-1953-1954. Statement disclosed that Kelowna taxpayers paid less in the upkeep of the arena, than residents in the other three valley cities. Over the three-year period, the apparent cost to Kelowna taxpayers was $5,610, whereas in Kamloops it was $21,709; Penticton, $28,002; and Vernon $10,127. Included in the $5,610 figure is the $380 paid annually for bonded indebtedness, plus grants for capital expenditures. The Kelowna arena was the only ice palace which showed an operating surplus every year.

Note—In most cases city pays fire insurance-auditing.

Penticton has the most gross revenue of $53,384; Kamloops was second with $42,773; Kelowna third with $26,992 and Vernon last with $24,701. On the other side of the ledger, however, apart from capital expenditures and debt service, it cost Kamloops $30,403 to operate the arena; Penticton $26,237; Kelowna $17,228 and Vernon, $17,093. On the three-year average, Penticton took in the most revenue from "Senior A" hockey with $13,085; Kelowna's gates average $8,681; Kamloops, $8,436, and Vernon $6,015.

In many instances, the figures, published below are somewhat confusing, in view of the fact that each arena has a different system of accounting. For instance, under advertising, Kelowna shows only $79. Reason for this is that the local arena charges advertising against each individual event. During the discussion, a spokesman for the Kamloops arena said that since the arena was constructed, there were less accidents than when children were playing on the river. It was felt the arena is part of the parks program and officials do not look for it to pay for itself more than they would expect returns from the park operations. They felt that senior hockey should pay a straight rental with the arena running their own concessions.

Vernon representatives agreed with Kamloops that the arena was built for community enjoyment and could not be expected to pay. However, they agreed that something should be done to run hockey on a better footing. A large percentage of hockey fans, it was felt, are non-taxpayers, and therefore do not agree to the arena commissioners running the plants, nor giving grants.

Penticton delegates, while admitting revenue has been good up to now, realize this will not continue. They too felt the arena is a civic project for the enjoyment of the public and that the plant is not expected to pay its way. They felt a "realistic attitude" should be taken. The arena does not handle tickets, hockey promotion, ushers or doormen, but keeps the concessions. The board works on a game rental basis and also a percentage basis.

Meeting chairman, Dick Parkinson said the prime purpose of calling the conference was to (1) ascertain if arena representatives were agreeable to taking over hockey and running it in the same manner as other special events and (2) should arenas cut rentals to hockey clubs with all arenas agreeing to a minimum charge.

He referred to problems facing Kelowna, and felt something should be done to keep the same calibre of hockey but at a more reasonable figure.

Salaries are out of line and expenses in general were too high for the successful operation of hockey in the Okanagan, he thought.

Arena commissioner F. G. Barlee warned that Kelowna might have to drop out of hockey if nothing is done. "Hockey has become a little industry and something should be done before it has to fold," he remarked.

Representatives agreed that another meeting should be held in either Kelowna or Vernon within a month's time.

SCIENCE SHRINKS PILES NEW-WAY WITHOUT SURGERY

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynone)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

VERNON—Vernon Canadians moved to within one game of a four game sweep in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League championship here last night with a come-back push that gave them a 5-3 triumph over Kamloops Elks and a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven final.

Canadians can wrap up the series Friday night in Kamloops where the Elks must win to stay alive. Fifth, if needed, will be played back in Vernon Saturday.

Three goals in the third period back in the running at 17:28 when Chuck McCullough got the draw in the hard-driving Argentinian victory, with homebrew Merv Bidoski "Boomer" Rodzinyak. Davey out-scoring the winner with little more than two minutes remaining.

Shawn Blair rolled it down in the final minute with a shot into the empty Kamloops net. Elks got the jump and held a 2-0 lead until late in the opening frame. Canadians tied it early in the second but Phil Hergesheimer put his club back in the lead on a breakaway at 15:11 to set the stage for the big Vernon rally.

OPENS SCORING

Johnny Millard opened the scoring at 8:14 of the opening session when he rapped in Slater's goal-mouth pass on a power play with Vernon two men short. Davey Duke, an Elk standout, made it 2-0 at 10:12 when he stole the puck, swept around Don McLeod and beat Hal Gordon smartly, with a low flip. Hustling Art Davison put the blues high into the twine.

Merv Bidoski, who with Davison has been one of Vernon's best payoff men in this series, tied it 2-2 at 1:10 of the second when he deflected Orr Lavelle's forward pass past Rodzinyak with the Elk goalie out of position.

Hergesheimer was off for slashing at 13:01 and had stepped back on just in time to accept a long forward into the clear from Joe Conn. Herg made no mistake, beating Gordon from close in.

George Agar was left unmarked at the crease and took Brian Roche's pass at 3:44 to tie it up, faking "Boomer" neatly for the score.

Both clubs pressed hard for the winner until Bidoski rifled home Don McLeod's rebound at 17:40.

SMALL CROWD

A slim crowd of 1,600 saw the contest in which Elks had much the best of the play in the first half before Canadians came on strong in the final 30 minutes. Elks outshot

Local midgets win valley title

Kelowna Midget Legionnaires won the Okanagan Valley midget hockey league championship when Vernon team failed to show up for the second game of the best of three series Tuesday night. Kelowna won the first contest blanking Vernon 9-0.

Many Vernon midgets were sidelined with the flu and mumps, so they forfeited the game. Kelowna will now meet Kamloops in a best of three series for the Okanagan-Mainline Midget Hockey title.

It was also announced that the Kelowna Minor Hockey League Jamboree has been set back from March 5 to March 25.

Oceola fish, game club headed by Art Pollard

WINFIELD—Oceola Fish and Game Club has gone on record recommending that the deer season be extended to December 15. Recommendation was made at the annual meeting in the Winfield Memorial hall. Oceola comprises clubs of the Winfield, Okanagan Centre and Oyma areas.

Art Pollard was elected president; Brian Cooney, vice-president and John Green secretary-treasurer.

George Stringer, fish biologist, and regional representative from the game department, gave a talk on fish stocking and culture. Game warden Don Ellis and Al Frisbie were present.

Brian Cooney is spearheading a membership drive, and many new sportsmen are expected to join this year. Handling of the trap club was left to the new executive, and it was indicated there would be an annual trapshooting organization this year.

There was some discussion on the Duck Lake sanctuary and several suggestions were made as to how it could be improved.

B.C. forest industry being investigated on two fronts

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's giant forest industry is in for a searching investigation on two fronts.

While Chief Justice Gordon Sloan was beginning hearings for his inquiry into the whole multi-million dollar industry, the B.C. government announced the appointment of county court judge Arthur Lord as a one-man royal commission into the issuing of forest management licences.

Judge Lord's appointment climaxed a bitter months-long fight against the government's forest policies by Gordon Gibson, an ex-logger and Liberal member of the legislature for Lillooet.

Mr. Gibson's charge that "money had talked" in the issuing of forest management licences and pointed questions concerning what monies, if any, had been paid into the coffers of the B.C. Social Credit League by companies obtained licences, brought him a one-day suspension from the legislative chamber and forced the government into appointing the royal commission.

Judge Lord's inquiry is not expected to get underway until late next week at the earliest. His terms of reference ask him to inquire into the issuing of licences; if there is any truth in allegations of impropriety and whether there is an impropriety in the issuing.

As this week opened, Mr. Gibson served notice he has no intention of ceasing his attack on the government.

The fiery Liberal member told the legislative Monday that Judge Lord's inquiry would be useless unless the government produced correspondence from some of the big companies already granted licences.

Other questions he has asked the government to answer include:

How much has the government received from forest management licences? How much timber was cut from licensed areas? How much was paid for timber cut from other than licensed areas? The amount of all allowances deductible from the gross stumpage yield on licences? What money was paid for timber taken off public work-ing circles? And the amount of money spent by the lands department on working circles?

Importance of the industry to B.C. was emphasized at the opening session of Chief Justice Sloan's inquiry into the forest management research expert produced figures showing the gross value of B.C.'s forest production had more than tripled since 1945.

J. T. Kingston, research assistant in the bureau of economics and statistics, department of trade and industry, said production had jumped to $316,723,587 from $104,927,850. Net value of production in the same 10-year period soared to $154,069,375 from $50,752,936.

Bluebird briefs

Didn't you have fun on the 14th? That was a much better icebreaker than last year, in point of numbers at any rate. And we believe members of CARS and the Auxiliary who turned out to help, had just as good a time. We are sorry that some were not able to be there. The warmer weather will soon be here and we plan to have a picnic of another kind then. By that time we hope you will all be able to come. We want our parties to grow and grow.

Judging by the enthusiasm shown in the hockey tournament, we have a number of potential Packer Backers in our midst. Prize winners were Mr. Eldstrom, Mrs. W. Conn, Alistair Cameron and Mrs. J. Bewick.

Coffee last year was such a problem. Do you remember how we blew one fuse after another with our electric kettles? We are grateful this year to Mrs. Hankey. She not only donated the coffee, but came down to her shop at 10:00 o'clock and made it. Two of our men were there to cart it over to the health centre, together with the ice cream, which Mr. Hankey had stored in their 'fridge for us.

From bank accountant to 'bingo Barker'—Walter Clarke accomplished the transition with ease and dexterity. Shouldn't be surprised if he were much in demand at bingo parties in the future. It was an opportunity for a few friends to meet for the first time in many months, while for others new friendships were made with a bright future.

Sometime during April, Miss Mary Pack, principal founder of CARS in B.C. will be visiting us. We hope that every one of you may meet her. To find a more dynamic personality one would have to go far. CARS is her whole life, and B.C.'s record is ample proof. The province leads all of North America in treatment centres, 27 now with the opening of the Prince George centre, and there would be more if only we had the physiotherapists to staff them. Other centres have laid the groundwork, and wait only for the coming of a physiotherapist.

All but three on CARS staff come from the British Isles, you know, and it is our great hope to see a department of physiotherapy established at UBC in the near future. At present McGill and Toronto offer the only three-year course in Canada. This, too, is another dream of the woman behind CARS. We wonder how many know her story. Perhaps now would be as good a time as any to fill in a little background.

In her work as a teacher she often came into contact with children with various forms of rheumatic diseases—rheumatic fever, the results of rheumatic fever or with juvenile arthritis. On investigation she found that absolutely no provision was made for them. Further, that thousands of people all over the province suffered the physical and mental anguish of rheumatic diseases.

Then she watched her own mother grow progressively worse with arthritis in spite of adherence to medical advice, and so she began her one-woman crusade. She wrote thousands of letters, she interviewed countless people, she made innumerable trips to Victoria, and she spoke to many service clubs, hoping to interest them in the cause. The Associated Commercial Travellers listened and were inspired to help. That was in 1948. They offered to try to raise $50,000 to start a fund for research and treatment. Miss Pack had obtained provincial government promise to match whatever the ACTC raised. Have you forgotten that year in Kelowna when it rained for Regatta? That was the year that the ACTC sponsored Jerry Colonna, in an effort to raise a fair chunk of that $50,000. They ran a province-wide raffle at the same time.

Well, it was a small beginning, but Miss Pack continued to work around the clock, and CARS was founded. She had no office, and used packing furniture and a borrowed typewriter, but the work went on. The set-backs, the frustrations, the sometimes hopeless outlook, were all grist to her mill. Another woman would have written it off as impossible. Is it any wonder that she was awarded one of the Queen's medals, a distinction conferred on very few, by Her Ma-

esty, Queen Elizabeth, for outstanding contributions to the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth given to commemorate her Coronation?

Now, just four years later, CARS has grown from those small beginnings to the $150,000 per year project that it is today, and very soon they move into permanent new quarters on West Broadway in Vancouver. Let us never take to granted the ministrations of Bluebird physio, or the constantly improving standard of care. CARS sends promising young medical men each year for post-graduate study at world-renowned centres who in return, come back to B.C. to give of their new-found knowledge or the reclamation of crippled lives through the Western Rehabilitation Centre in Vancouver.

Let us give a thought sometime to the woman behind it all. The years have exacted their toll, and last summer Mary Pack underwent serious heart surgery, because she was appalled at the alternative—drastically curtailed activity. Now a few months later, she has bounced back, and we hope that all of you may meet her on her projected trip through the Okanagan. For those of you who cannot, she is not at what you may have expected. Small and fair, with attractive even features; wise and understanding brown eyes with a humorous sparkle. Her personality and sincerity are apparent from the moment of meeting. The portrait of a great woman—we can do no less than follow where she leads.

Until week after next,
—Your Bluebird Reporter.

Former mayors life members valley group

ARMSTRONG—Secretary of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association last year, G. H. Dunn has been elected clerk of Kelowna for 46 years. The Orchard City's mayor, J. J. Ladd told delegates to the annual meeting of OVMA in Armstrong.

Some years ago, when Jack Horn of Kelowna was president, Mr. Dunn was made a life member of OVMA. Now he will have some companions in the same honor—change in the bylaws of OVMA say that all past presidents will become honorary life members. They will automatically have the privilege of the floor but not the right to vote.

To be honored with certificate shortly will be former Vernon mayor or now executive director of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, R. B. Adams; Mr. Horn; Reeve C. Bentley of Summerland; and a former Kelowna mayor, O. L. Jones MP for Okanagan-Boundary.

MEAT FORUM

The Kelowna branch of the Candian Consumers' Association is giving the public to attend the meat forum on March 16 in the senior school auditorium. Sessions will be held both in the afternoon and evening.

It means much more than just pretend
 To show that I'm
 another friend;
 A real friendship lets
 you know
 About how far friendship
 will go.
 A friendship folks all
 love to greet
 Is one that proves its
 near complete.
 A friendship that will
 stick and stay,
 When other folks have turned away.

Mrs. L. Hooper again heads local IODE chapter

Mrs. L. Hooper was re-elected Regent of the Mary Boyce Chapter, IODE at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. Gilroy.

Other officers elected include:
 first vice-regent, Mrs. I. Lansdowne;
 second vice-regent, Mrs. R. Hooper;
 secretary, Mrs. E. Gouin; treasurer,
 Miss B. Thompson; educational secretary, Mrs. Downey; standard bearer, Mrs. I. Lansdowne; Echoes, Mrs.
 E. Phillips; home and abroad, Mrs.
 A. Clinton; health and welfare, Mrs.
 Gilroy.

Representatives to White Cane
 Club, Mrs. E. Gouin; to David Lloyd
 Jones Home Auxiliary, Mrs. E.
 Phillips; to Film Council, Mrs. R.
 Hooper.

Reports were given by various committee conveners and officers.
 Educational secretary reported a number of parcels were sent to adopted school at Fort Nelson which included school supplies, donated used clothing, gifts and knitted articles made by the members. This school has an attendance of 45 students. Twelve IODE calendars were distributed to local schools.

Services at home and abroad sent parcels to two pensioners in England, and a Christmas food hamper was given to a family at Mission Creek.

Chapter funds were raised by means of its dues, rummage sale which netted $40.00 and also donations from members towards food and school parcels expenses.

Infra-red lamp was donated to the Kelowna General Hospital and to the David Lloyd-Jones home a bedroom mat and infra-red lamp bulb.

Chapter also contributed to the Ontario Hurricane Flood Relief,
 Peace Garden Fund, March of Dimes, Local Students Assistance
 Fund, and Queen Alexandra Solidarity. A Remembrance Day wreath was laid at the Cenotaph.
 At this meeting Mrs. Downey was installed as a chapter member.

Private recital given by noted coast pianist

Students and teachers of the Registered Music Teachers' Association and a number of interested friends were invited to the home of Mrs.
 Phyllis Trenwith last Tuesday evening to hear Miss Joyce Chen, young accomplished Vancouver pianist, play. Miss Chen was a guest in Miss Trenwith's home.
 Though young in years, this brilliant pianist is a seasoned winner of first place and other honors. In 1948, she won the junior piano in the MacMillan Club competitions and since then has performed successfully in festival competitions and championships, and a number of scholarships.
 Miss Chen, who is a serious student and tenacious in everything
 she undertakes, made 1954 an outstanding year in her experiences;
 besides completing her LRSM diploma work she won an open festival competition and three scholarships. Miss Chen is an accomplished recitalist and accompanist, and has given programs over CBC network.

Farewell parties are given for local couple

A number of parties have been given and more are planned by Kelowna friends of Mr. and Mrs. Les Koch who leave Monday for Prince George where Mr. Koch has been transferred by the Shell Oil Company. New sales representative in Kelowna is Mr. C. Beacock, of Vancouver, who with his wife and daughter have taken up temporary residence at Kenogon Auto Court.

A group of 25 friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Koch the latter part of January for a surprise farewell party. Presentation of a gift from the group was made by Mr. E. B. "Tiny" Walrod.

Since then the Walrods have entertained the Kochs at dinner, and Mrs. Ernie Winter has had a bridge party for Mrs. Koch, Sr., who lives with her son and daughter-in-law and their two children, Joanne and Donald.

A coffee party will be held on Friday morning at the home of Mrs.
 W. H. Ball, Glenwood Ave., and a Saturday evening party will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
 E. R. Winter.

Although it is only three years ago since Mr. Koch was transferred here from Vancouver, the family is reluctant to leave Kelowna, which they have grown to love so well.

East Kelowna

EAST KELLOWNA—Sympathy of the people of East Kelowna district goes out to Mrs. J. Phipps and family on the death of their husband and father.

Mrs. Alec Robertson, who has been a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital for the past two weeks has returned home and is progressing favorably.

Congratulations go out to Mr. and Mrs. John Bulcock on the birth of a sister for Richard and Douglas,
 at the Kelowna General Hospital
 last Thursday.

Fred Pinea is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital.

Mrs. G. D. Fitzgerald, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law
 Mr. and Mrs. Rex Fitzgerald, left last Sunday for Vancouver where she will attend the Red Cross convention as delegate from Kelowna.

Best wishes for a speedy return to health and home goes out to Mrs. Koide who is a patient in Kelown General Hospital.

Last Saturday the First East Kelowna Brownie Pack held its Valentine party in the gaily decorated community hall. Sheena Fernow was postman and each one received a goodly share of valentines. Valentine cookies and candies were distributed to each Brownie and the rest of the morning was spent playing games.

Kelowna SPCA helped build dog shelter

The SPCA has been active during the past year and was partly responsible for the construction of a modern dog shelter in the pound area. City council has been cooperative in the work and went ahead with the building on plans submitted by the local executive of the SPCA.
 The completed cost of this building was around $800 of which $100
 was donated by the local branch of the SPCA. Impounded dogs are now comfortably housed and well cared for by Mike Elson, city pound keeper.
 Mr. Elson was appointed SPCA inspector for the district bounded by a line drawn from McCulloch to Oyama to Ewings Landing to Peach-land and back to McCulloch.
 All cases of suffering animals
 coming to the notice of anyone within this area should be reported either to C. R. Reid at 8095 or to Mr. Elson at 3199 when prompt action will be taken.

TRAFFIC TOLL
 OTTAWA—The capital's traffic fatalities last year, to 18 in 1954, one less than 1953 and three less than 1952, although vehicle registrations of 76,000 last year were 10 percent higher than in 1952.

More About
1 Adjective old

(From Page 1, Col. 8)
 memory work . . . and you can't tell me of a better thing to cultivate the mind and improve the faculty to think."

"Although we had a church, we had no minister," Mrs. Reid broke in suddenly. "He got drowned that Spring," she added laconically.
 "Rev. Herdman used to come out and take the services occasionally. We didn't have enough money in the community to pay a regular minister. That is, until we did something about it."

That "something" got its start from the autographed comforter shown in the picture accompanying the story. "Each member of the community paid 10 cents to have his name embroidered upon
 it. We made $25 from the squares and more when it was auctioned."

That start led to the formation of a women's auxiliary, of which Mrs. Reid is a charter member; the hiring of a minister, and subsequently, the way of life which still exists in that community.

When asked if she felt that she had accomplished her ambitions in her life thus far, Mrs. Reid replied, "No—not in my life, but I can see some of those ambitions being achieved in my grand-children."

OPPOSED TO LIQUOR
 Just the same, many are the graces possessed by this winsome lady. Her later years, she says, have been enjoyed as much as any,
 having had more time to read,
 think and catch up with life generally. Her criticisms of the modern age are constructive, although to one thing she will concede no favor—drink. "Because of it, she believes, the world is heading for the grave."

Her philosophy of life is bounded with wisdom, or more correctly,
 "the place from which is received wisdom." In her garden she is happiest. Here, her fine mind and "wisdom" meet, as illustrated in her favorite poem "One is nearest God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth."

And being in the garden at eighty-five does not, in Mrs. Reid's case, mean pottering around with the roses. Only a short time ago, she harvested twenty bushels of potatoes, to say nothing of the vegetables and fruits.

The adjective "old" has no place
 in her vocabulary or understanding. She is an indefatigable worker with a zest for life it would be hard to equal. The word "old"
 in this instance is obviously a synonym for young.

More than a million Canadian children are members of the Junior Red Cross.

CHILDREN AT SUNNYVALE CENTRE LOVE VISITORS TO JOIN IN SINGING, WEAVING OR WORKING WITH PLASTICINE

By JUNE BURMASTER
Children at Sunnyvale Centre love visitors—not visitors who sit back and watch them at their work and play, but rather visitors who will join them in their activities, sing with them, help them with their weaving, or work with their plasticine—making men, animals or various other objects, whatever the occasion calls for.

Visitors to Sunnyvale want to return again and again for they find in this school for mentally retarded children a group of "kiddies" who, though varied in ages, are truly happy. These children are elated because they are doing useful work and they are capable of doing and at the same time they are not required to do more than they can master.

Each child seems to be gifted in one way or another. For instance, Mavis loves to print and all her work is exceptionally neat. Theresa is the singer while Louise is rhythmic and during the singing of Jingle Bells, she and George provide the sound effects. Janet, Doreen, Bobby, Marion—each has a particular interest and given the opportunity, as they are at Sunnyvale, to use their imaginations they can produce some really worthwhile work. Cicelia has very pretty eyes; she loves to study people.

LOVE AND SECURITY

What all of these children seek is love and security and Mrs. E. O. Middleton, their permanent teacher, and the other volunteer workers at the school are providing just such an atmosphere for them. Numerous service club contributions have aided Mrs. Middleton in an hour there in the pleasant atmosphere of this centre.

Reports tendered at meeting of local women's council indicate that various groups are active in community work

Annual reports of all the affiliated organizations of the Local Council of Women given at the regular meeting of the council last Friday show a wide and varied field of community work being covered by the women of Kelowna.

Highlight of the February meeting was the report on the provincial annual meeting, presented by Mrs. M. A. Van't Hoff and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams who are both executive members of the Provincial Council of Women and who, therefore attended the meeting in Victoria.

Election of officers for Local sired changes or amendments in the Council of Women took place, at administration act in respect of their annual meeting in January, testate succession, "Wives Protection" because of lack of time annual act" and "Deserted Wives reports were postponed until the Maintenance Act." Requests were February meeting. Last month, Mr. J. D. Ward of the Canadian Health Association was guest speaker, curtailing the amount of available time for business.

MANY REPRESENTATIVES

Representatives from all associated organizations were present. These included Registered Nurses' Association, Junior Hospital Auxiliary, Girl Guide Auxiliary, Red Cross, Women's Federation of United Church, Jessie Findlay Group of the Baptist Church, Catholic Women's Association, Anglican Guild, and inet as was the possible legislation W.A., Business and Professional Women's Club, Soroptimists, Stagnettes, Dr. Knox Chapter of IOOE, Women's Liberal Group, the Conservative Women, CCF Auxiliary, Sacred Women's Auxiliary, and Canadian Association of Consumers. Total membership of all these groups is approximately 1,000 women.

Community services rendered by these groups revealed assistance given to underprivileged children, to blind, to old folks, and to needy people at home and also in Korea. Scholarships have been offered by some groups and others have adopted isolated schools and provided needed hospital equipment. Membership of practically all of these groups have served as volunteers in community efforts such as Blood Donors Clinic, Red Cross Campaign, and various other Red Cross work; in the Baby Clinic, and the Clothing Depot operated by the Council, and in various fund-raising drives the local women have given their help freely.

Most groups included some form of study in their programs, which pointed to better citizenship, and keener understanding of legislation and the work of the United Nations.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES REPORT
Reports of the various council committees showed that the council co-sponsored a successful panel on "Present Day Trends in Education," that they forwarded 750 lbs. of used clothing to Korea; that studies were conducted on municipal voting; fluoridation was thoroughly discussed and the question acted upon; that the council co-operated with the Art Council and United Nations group; that the need of inspection bylaw for poultry similar to that of meat inspection was analyzed; services of the clothing depot were continued and eighty appeals, mostly of families but also of old age pensioners over and above the appeals of 102 transients, were answered.

REPRESENTATIVES REPORT

Remainder of the evening was given over to Mrs. M. A. Van't Hoff, local president, and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, who are both executive members of the Provincial Council of Women and were therefore present at the provincial annual meeting in Victoria early this month.

Mrs. Van't Hoff in her remarks emphasized particularly the able speakers of the convention which included Mrs. H. Armstrong, provincial president, Mrs. Rex Eaton, Hon. Ray G. Williston, minister of education who spoke on the equalization act, and the Hon. R. E. Sommers, minister of lands, forests and mines who spoke chiefly on the Kaiser Dam project.

Provincial Council is one of the few privileged groups who enjoy the liberty of meeting with the cabinet and discussing their problems. On Friday evening of the convention, ten of the women presented fifteen resolutions to the cabinet. Mrs. T. F. McWilliams spoke briefly on the resolutions which were placed before the cabinet. They included de-

Laennec, a Victim and a Victor

LAENNEC, a consumptive himself, was greatly interested in the study of Tuberculosis. He examined some four hundred cases, keeping detailed records. These studies led to his invention in 1819 of the Stethoscope, which was at first just a cylinder of paper held in his hands and later made of hollow wooden tubes. The Stethoscope permitted development of physical diagnosis far beyond anything previously attempted and our modern knowledge of chest diseases is mainly derived from Laennec's writings on the subject.

Don't wait till you are ill to take an interest in your health. Prevention is far easier and less expensive than cure. Have your health checked regularly by your doctor and if you ARE ill, follow his directions exactly.

Education costs up $177,391

The cost of education in school District 23 this year will be increased by $177,391, according to the tentative estimates of expenditures received from the school board by the city council. The estimates provide for an expenditure of $1,013,962.

The largest item of the estimates is the instruction account which reaches approximately $625,000, an increase of $56,448 over last year.

This is not the final estimate of the board, it is the figure which has gone to Victoria for approval by the department of education.

NO REVENUE FIGURES

No revenue figures were included because the school trustees simply do not know where they stand under the new taxation formula.

The date by which the full estimates of the board must be presented to city council is now set at March 15. Council, of course, can do little with its own estimates until its financial position is clarified and it knows what demands on the city taxpayers the school estimates will make.

Game warden shoots cougar

When a cougar runs rampant over the countryside killing deer, then it's time a man, his dog and his gun got together and did something about it.

The cougar shown above (five feet from tip to tail, 2 years old and 100 lbs.) fell to the ground as a result of a single shot from game warden Don Ellis's gun. The dog, Nigger, was also in at the kill, bringing his record of treed cougars to sixty-one.

Shot between Glenrosa and Trepanier Creek, yesterday, the cougar was first reported by farmer Ross Gorman, of Westbank. Gorman accompanied Ellis on the hunt and, since it was his first, hopes to have the head mounted.

The tracking down and shooting of this cougar gives little cause for alarm, according to the game warden, who said, "there are very few in this district. Most of them were wiped out a couple of years back."

Jury attaches no blame in road accident

A coroner's jury yesterday afternoon found that Edward Meyers of Kamloops, came to his death by misjudgment on his own part, and no blame is attached to anyone involved.

Meyers was killed February 12 on Highway 97, 13 miles north of Kelowna, when struck by a vehicle as he was attempting to retrieve a woman's purse. Purses dropped out of a car driven by Ernest J. Proctor, of North Kamloops.

Alleged driver of the vehicle which struck Meyers was Bruno Gutknecht, of Vernon.

Coroner Dr. J. A. Urquhart presided over the probe.

Jury members were John L. Gordon, foreman; Archibald Loudoun, Donald G. Roberts, George Faulkner, William C. Brodie, Douglas Smith.

Ferry service stepped up

Revised ferry schedule between Westside and Kelowna will go into effect March 1, according to district engineer T. S. Hughes.

It will provide an 18 and 19 minute service from 7.00 a.m. to midnight and a 40 to 50 minute service between midnight and 7.00 a.m.

Mr. Hughes indicated the new schedule will be in effect the year round. Normally there is a slightly curtailed service during winter months.

Two ferries will operate under the revised schedule, and when the two new wharfs are completed, possibly by early May, a third vessel will work on a non-scheduled basis, picking up the overload of vehicles.

Son-in-law of local couple passes away

Word was received today of the death in a Boston, U.S. hospital of Norman Forbes, son-in-law of Col. and Mrs. D. C. Simson of Kelowna.

With his wife, the former Barbara Simson, Mr. Forbes was living in Switzerland immediately prior to arriving in the U.S. a short time ago. In 1953, the family spend the summer in this city. The funeral will probably take place in Toronto, the birthplace of Mr. Forbes.

Besides a host of friends, she leaves to mourn her passing her parents and an older sister, Betty (Mrs. Bruce Campbell) of Penticton.

Funeral services will be held this Saturday at 2:00 p.m. from First United Church, the Rev. R. S. Leitch officiating. Interment will follow in Kelowna cemetery. Kelowna Funeral Directors have been entrusted with arrangements.

Excellent alternative

The fact that more and more boys and girls are showing interest in the Scout and Guide movements in this district should be welcomed here, particularly by those who fear for the future of the younger generation and who are alarmed at the aids and encouragements given to the misbehavior of the young.

One of the most popular dislikes of today are the horror comic books and other objectionable literature and there is much talk of book burnings and censorship. It should be realized, of course, that burning or censorship would only increase the attractiveness of the banned article.

The answer to such attractions is not to put them out of the youngsters' reach—that would only encourage them to climb higher for the forbidden fruit—but to give them something more wholesome in place of them.

Why? indeed!

Why is it that raffles are more dangerous to the moral welfare of the people of British Columbia than they are to the people of Ontario?

Why is it that operating under the same law a hockey club can have a draw on tickets worth $2.00 each and in British Columbia a hockey club cannot have a draw for programs valued at 10 cents each.

Why is it that in Ontario a former Dominion cabinet minister actually draws the winning ticket at a raffle with $3,000 in prizes, while in British Columbia the government has instructed the RCMP to crack down on all raffles?

Are the morals of the people of British Columbia more susceptible to the evils of gaming than are those of the people of Ontario?

Is gambling evil?

These are among the questions prompted by a discussion in the Kelowna city council on Monday night when Alderman Parkinson produced an advertisement of a draw on admission tickets to a hockey game in Cornwall, Ont., the winning ticket worth $3,000 being drawn by Hon. Louis Chevrier, until recently a member of the federal cabinet.

The discussion in council indicated that the members felt that as this was a federal law the enforcement should be the same throughout the country. That it was patently unfair for raffles to be run high, wide and handsome in Ontario and Quebec while the smallest raffle in British Columbia is suppressed.

The fact, of course, is that while the lottery law is on the federal statute books, the enforcement of it is left to the provinces and, if things

Charitable appeals

Almost every mail, it would seem, brings an appeal into this office for some assistance in some fund-raising campaign. The request generally takes the form of a request for free publicity designed to stir our readers into reaching into their pockets for a substantial donation.

This newspaper is in sympathy with the aims and objectives of such appeals, but practical expediency makes it necessary to turn a cold shoulder. And perhaps the time has arrived when a statement of our policy on this matter may not be amiss.

Our problem is this: If we ran all this publicity material, we would be appealing for assistance for two and sometimes three charities every issue. It now seems to us that we make an appeal at least every week. If we supported all these campaigns as requested we would soon be financially embarrassed because it costs money to set every line of type and in order to give publicity to those organizations we do support we must have some income coming in.

Further, we believe that our first responsibility is to local organizations.

With these things in mind, therefore, we have a measuring yardstick. We will ignore all such appeals that have no local organization. We think this is fair, although sometimes it does appear to work a hardship as, for instance, this morning, when we reluctantly turned our backs on the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children and its "Shower of Dimes". As for locally organized campaigns, we reserve the right to give each the support it merits, in our estimation, in relation to other campaigns.

This newspaper readily admits that its thinking is influenced somewhat by an impression that these charitable campaigns are again getting out of hand. It feels that the very number of them is becoming tiresome and works against them all. It feels, too, that all these appeals should be combined into one; that the organization should be members of the Community Chest. We admit,

Scouting or Guiding is one of the alternatives. While membership in either of these fine movements would not necessarily prevent youngsters from reading harmful literature nor ensure that they would avoid temptations, it would train the mind to have more respect for the better things in life.

Scouting and Guiding can teach spirit, respect, loyalty and discipline, all of which have an important part in building the man out of the boy, or the woman out of the girl. A grounding in such things at an early age can do a great deal to offset the evils which go to spoil a character.

The men and women working for the Scout and Guide movements have an important job on their hands, one which they are doing well. We should be thankful that there are such people who are giving time and effort to such a worthy cause.

are different in B.C. than in Ontario, Quebec and almost every other province, the responsibility must be placed squarely on the shoulders of the provincial government. That is where the fault—if it is a fault—lies. Certainly it is a case of "everybody being out of step but my Jim". There is one law for the whole Dominion but in B.C. it means something very, very different from what it does in most other provinces.

The city council decided to write to O. L. Jones, urging him to work toward a uniform enforcement of the law. The council might better save its postage; Mr. Jones' efforts will be quite ineffective. The council, rather, should turn its eyes to Victoria where, certainly, a Victorian atmosphere seems to predominate in this matter, at least. The law, it is true, is federal, but the decisions about its enforcement come straight from Victoria.

The Dominion government, of course, should change its law, but until it does so, most of the provinces have chosen to close their eyes to raffles, while the exact opposite policy has been adopted in British Columbia.

Whether or not gambling is evil is another question. The public simply does not consider the purchase of raffle tickets as gambling. It is, of course, but the public does not consider it so and many, many highly moral people who would not bet on a horse race (approved by the B.C. government) or play a game of poker, do purchase raffle tickets, gladly and enthusiastically. If a public expression of opinion was sought through a plebiscite, it would probably result three-to-one in favor of raffles.

too, to some prejudice because an organization stands aloof to the Chest. The Chest is not perfect, but it is the best means yet devised for controlling multiple appeals and if each of these organizations forgot its own selfish interests and joined with others likewise trying to do good, the Chest could be made the vehicle it should be and the charitable appeal situation here put on a more satisfactory basis.

Tag days also come into the picture and it is with some concern that we notice the city council is tending to relax its policy in this regard. A firm hand was held on tag days during the war and Kelowna has been comparatively free of this nuisance. We trust the city council will take a second look at its relaxed policy and resume its strong position.

Charitable appeals, each and all, probably deserve the moral and financial support of all of us. At least the great bulk of them are honest attempts to further good works in many directions. But the simple truth is that they are getting to be so many that it is impossible to support all. The goose that lays the golden egg is becoming a little restive at the continual cry for more eggs. It is high time, we think, that the well-meaning citizens who contribute time and effort on some pet charitable project, should raise their heads and look around and observe that many others are doing the same work with a slightly different purpose: One honest glance should demonstrate that there is a great duplication of enthusiasm, effort and time, to say nothing of harassing of the public. We have never yet been given one adequate reason why it is not quite feasible for all these campaigns to be lumped in one basket. And we said, "all".

Note and comment

In Hollywood society the other day a party was given for guests and their parakeets, which should at least have stepped up the quality of the conversation.

Battle of the sexes

I see by the papers that down in Ontario the other day a woman business executive told the local Business and Professional Women's Club that "If women are going to get any place in the world, we'll have to support each other."

My first reaction on reading that was to smile tolerantly. "Just another woman sounding off," I thought. "What won't they think of next?"

"So they're going to stick together?" Well, perhaps we had better boycott them too and teach them a lesson.

I had quite a few quiet chuckles about how we men could embarrass the girls by a little boycotting. But the more I thought about it, the less sure I became. In other words confidence began to wane.

Suppose this boycott business actually took hold and men-boycotted women doctors and lawyers and women boycotted male doctors and lawyers. Presumably there would be sufficient females around to keep the female doctors and lawyers sending in good returns to the income tax department.

But if the women boycotted the male doctors and lawyers a good number of them would go out of business. Of course, many women would go without medical care and legal advice during the transition period when additional women doctors and lawyers were being trained. But when a woman makes up her mind to do something, she doesn't mind suffering for the cause. In fact, she doesn't know she is suffering until some man tells her she is.

At one time or another throughout the centuries women have demonstrated that in all practical aspects of life they can do anything as well as men with the single exception of singing bass. But, then, where will you find the man who looks well in nylon stockings?

Everybody knows that women can't think as well as men but the only trouble is that the women don't know it.

In recent years women have demonstrated that they can invade male fields and do any number of things as well as men. (Why right now in one of the comic strips there is quite a to-do in China because the U.S. sent a woman over as an expert on jet planes!)

But in the event of a boycott what female fields have been invaded by males and dominated successfully?

Think that one over, brother. After thinking this boycott thing over, I conclude that the men had not better try it. Excepting for one thing.

The solution lies in the female incapacity to stick together. When that eastern business woman exhorts her fellows to stick together against the male sex she is indulging in the stuff of which dreams are made.

The women might like to do it, but they have never been able to do it and never will be able to do it, either.

For the average female likes living with the "average" male more than she likes living with the "average" female. And because of this weakness she will betray the feminine cause every time.

So cheer, up men, and let's be smug again.

A group of school children were brought by their teacher to a meeting of a local council to learn something about government. The mayor interrupted proceedings periodically to explain things. The youngsters squirmed and looked at maps on one wall and a huge moose head on another. When the meeting was over the mayor asked the students if they had any questions. "Yes," said one boy, "who shot the moose?"

Survey reveals two-thirds of water wells in Rutland area showed contamination

RUTLAND—Two-thirds of the wells tested in the Rutland area during the past year showed contamination rendering them unsafe for human use.

This startling disclosure was made by F. R. Alcock, sanitarian of the South Okanagan Health Unit at a domestic water committee meeting. Mr. Alcock expressed the view the situation could be expected to become worse fairly rapidly.

Of 63 well tests, 22 showed gross contamination; 11 showed heavy contamination and nine slight contamination. Samples were submitted to the provincial laboratory.

Hobson's choice

Usually, the delayed action gadget in a camera which permits the taker to be fooled is much applauded. There is at least one time a man was there when it wasn't. The man set up his tripod on the street corner, directed the camera at a beautiful floral display in a shop window, pressed the delayed action gadget and then proceeded to get into the act. Upon reaching the window, he straightened his tie and turned round to meet the eye of the dicky-bird.

The metamorphosis from gentle smiling lamb to raging grimacing lion took one second. The time needed to observe that someone had hooked his camera, stand and all. Quite a gadget.

I thought I knew B.C. I don't. Seems that some stone quarries were recently opened in Salmon Arm. At least, that's what a Vancouver paper reports. How the boat merchant (out of town, of course) adds to the enigma. Maybe someone can help me out. The headline was: "Boat Club Names Slate in Salmon Arm."

Announcing the greatest and biggest sale ever to be held, an optimistic merchant (out of town, of course) invited a pessimistic public to save money. "Formerly priced at $75.50," he said, "reduced to clear at $74.50."

Now everybody can have one.

At the last hockey game, all innocent like, I said that sports fans wanted blood before sport. In a matter of seconds, it was clear whose blood was wanted. Nonetheless, suggestions that arena attendance has been down this year because of lack of "color" (obviously RED) bears out my contention.

The idea of giving the blood-letting department of the public what it wants has many possibilities. In cricket, for instance, when the batsman is bowled, instead of tipping his "flippin'" at graciously, at the bowler and walking back to the dressing room, he might be persuaded to turn around and make mash of the umpire.

With but little imagination, blood could be made to ooze over the edges of checker boards, bridge tables and tidley-wink stands—just to rev up the game, so to speak. In the case of the latter, if your opponent tiddles your wink instead of his own, it may become compulsory to break his arm—just to keep the fun amused.

Obviously, the old school tie and cry of play the game have had their day. Get in there to kill or be killed, should now be the motto—but why call it sport?

Name it and it's yours department. Then pull the head out of the neck, the neck out of the shoulders, the shoulders out of the rib cage, the rib cage out of the waist. From the waist press down the hips straining the back of them in and pushing out in front.

The man who takes his work home in a brief case is a familiar figure. Not so well known is the man who takes his home chores to the office.

Some men appear at work with stubbly beards, then dodge into the washroom to shave. Because they are in a hurry, or because they grow tired of trying to shave in a bathroom littered with their wives' cosmetics, they keep an office razor.

I have heard about a prominent citizen who keeps an electric razor in his car. The kind of razor that plugs into an automobile circuit—and shaves as he drives to work. Since this man's driving terrifies me even when he has two hands on the wheel, I am glad I have never been around to see the performance.

An old-time newspaperman of my acquaintance used to keep his toothbrush in a favorite restaurant. That was logical enough, since he ate most of his meals there. The toothbrush was a high tribute to the hospitality of the place. Home (to misquote an old proverb) is where the toothbrush is.

Another newspaperman sometimes came to the office after the paper had gone to bed and went to bed himself. This happened when he was temporarily out of a lodging.

I use the term "went to bed" rather loosely. The man lay down on what we called the "exchange table," where out-of-town newspapers were kept, and covered himself with such thick, heat-preserving journals as the Toronto Telegram, the Montreal Gazette and the New York Herald-Tribune.

In that case it was possible to say truthfully that a newspaper provided blanket coverage.

Some men who work in big machine-shops have been known to make or fix gadgets of their own—children's wagons, vacuum cleaners—when work is slack.

In machine shops associated with the Royal Canadian Navy, such a project is called a "rabbit." The term rabbit in naval slang also indicates an item of government property scrounged for private use.

According to legend, the term began thus: In the early days of a certain naval station, a man undertook to bring home for his children one of the rabbits that swarmed on the grounds. He caught one and was taking it out the gates in a box when a guard ordered him to open the box on suspicion that he was stealing something.

Despite his protests, the guard made him open it. Out jumped the rabbit and ran away. The man went back in and emerged a second time with the box. "I've gone to the trouble of catching another rabbit," he said. "Surely you're not going to make me open the box again."

"Okay," said the guard. And the man went on his way. But this time there was no rabbit. He had wickedly filled the box with pounds of butter and legs of ham looted from the mess kitchen.

The story is probably untrue. Whatever the origin of the term may be, though, some men work on "rabbits" at the shop. Other men shave at the office or sleep there. Sooner or later an employer will find a man who has moved a camp bed and hot plate into some forgotten back room at the office, and is living there rent free.

Here's news for people who suffer needlessly from constipation

You've probably tried lots of laxatives. But do you know about Kellogg's All-Bran? It's the original natural laxative cereal pioneered by W. K. Kellogg nearly 40 years ago. All-Bran is a delicious dish that promotes comfortable elimination.

Relief from Constipation
The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage. All-Bran, made from the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel and supplies natural food bulk. Just eat daily a one ounce serving for breakfast and drink plenty of water. It will improve your "Intestinal Tone" so necessary to comfortable regularity.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Double Your Money Back
All-Bran is a wholesome, good tasting cereal that has helped millions. We'll prove to you that Kellogg's All-Bran will give you gentle, effective relief from constipation within 10 days or give you double your money back. But be sure you get Kellogg's, the one and only All-Bran. Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

This diagram illustrates the schedule which the Canadian Pacific Railway's new "dome" streamliner "The Canadian" will follow to cross Canada in three nights travelling time when the stainless steel train goes into service on April 24.

Under the new schedule, Sudbury will be a mere six hours and 15 minutes out of Toronto; there will be only one night on the train between Montreal or Toronto and Winnipeg; Calgary will be little more than an overnight hop from Winnipeg; and

Vancouver will be reached early in the morning of the fourth day. "The Canadian," powered by diesel locomotives, will feature: Skyline coaches with reclining chairs equipped with head rests and full-length leg rests, which are reserved without extra charge, scenic dome-coach-coffee shops in which meals or snacks can be obtained at popular prices, luxurious dining room cars; "Manor" and "Chateau" sleeping cars with a wide variety of accommodation; and the fascinating new scenic dome lounge cars.

The Chinese Nationalist airforce says its planes destroyed 15 of 23 motorized Communist armed units near the Taishan islands in the Formosa strait last Saturday—in the same area where the Nationalist air force and navy claimed to have sunk 21 Red ships and a submarine the day before.

Another communique said that Nationalist planes heavily bombed installations on the Taishans.

The Reds appear to have been making an intensive effort to build up on the Taishans, which are within striking range of Nationalist positions on Nanchi island. The Taishans are 120 miles north of Formosa, the Nationalist stronghold, and only 15 miles from the Red mainland.

Advance intelligence of the Reds' troop and supply movements is said to have set up the Nationalist strike. The victory reports lifted morale on Formosa that had sunk after the previous week's Nationalist withdrawal from the Taichen islands farther north than the Taishans.

SOVIET MESSAGE
The Soviet Union has called for a world freeze on armaments and the immediate destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons. The Russian declaration was issued preliminary to the scheduled re-opening of disarmament discussions in London by United Nations sub-committee.

The statement from Moscow insisted that the western powers have been intensifying the arms race and the production of atomic weapons by pushing for the rearmament of West Germany. It said:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reductions of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers."

The statement proposed that a general international conference on reduction of armaments be held this year.

It came one day after the British government announced that its scientists are going ahead with production of the H-bomb.

COOL REACTION
Diplomatic quarters in London said the Russian call is unlikely to lead to any agreement at the disarmament sub-committee session. This is being attended by the five countries most advanced in atomic progress—The United States, Russia, Britain, Canada and France.

A Foreign Office spokesman at London said Britain would be willing to agree to a world disarmament conference only if the UN commission makes progress in reconciling east-west views. He said: "We have never had any objection in principle to a world conference in suitable circumstances, but disarmament was the subject of discussion for a long time in conferences in the past and no progress was made. It was for this reason that a conference of a sub-committee of the United Nations disarmament commission met in private to see if more progress could be made."

This sub-committee meets in London Feb. 25 to continue its disarmament talks.

MONTREAL FIRE TOLL
Burning cigarettes tossed down a garbage chute have been blamed by police for the fire that cost 11 lives at the Salaberry apartments in midtown Montreal last week.

Lieut. Joseph Larocque of the police department's fire investigation bureau said four feet of newspapers and ashes were found at the bottom of the chute. At least six live cigarette butts had been tossed down. He said they were probably fanned into flame by someone opening the door of the chute and admitting a draft.

Another 14 persons were injured in the blaze, including two women seriously hurt when they jumped from the building.

TROOPS IN GERMANY
The Canadian army's senior Protestant chaplain, Col. John W. Forth of Montreal and Ottawa, said in London he thinks the morale of Canadian troops in Germany is as high as he has ever seen it. He had just reached London after two weeks at the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany, where he dedicated four new churches for soldiers and dependents.

Col. Forth, who had a church in Newcastle, N.B., before the Second World War, has met several British religious dignitaries in his London visit. He returns to Canada in a few days.

BLAIR FRASER CASE
Gordon Wismer, former attorney-general of British Columbia, has dropped his libel action against the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company of Toronto and Blair Fraser, its Ottawa editor. The case, which has been before the courts for three years, involved an article published in Maclean's Magazine dealing with the collapse of the B.C. government in 1952.

An order of dismissal of the case without costs was issued in the B.C. supreme court by Mr. Justice H. S. Wood.

Mr. Wismer agreed to drop the case following a retraction published in the current issue of Maclean's. "I am quite satisfied," he said, "I have been vindicated. The clearing of my name was all I sought at any time."

The apology from the publishers and Mr. Fraser, we state that there was no intention on the part of the writer or publisher to reflect on Mr. Wismer's honesty or charge him with political dishonesty.

The article in Mr. Fraser's column "Backstage at Ottawa" was headed: "B.C. coalition government commits suicide."

"During the many court hearings, the freedom of the press was an issue in the arguments. Mr. Fraser declined to reveal the source of his article, because to do so would disclose his 'very stock in trade'."

In examination for discovery—a pre-trial examination—he refused to give any source of information. Because of this, defence in the action was struck out. This was termed an "unprecedented ruling" by some authorities.

Mr. Justice N. W. Whittaker of the B.C. supreme court later ruled the source of information must be disclosed. On appeal, the supreme court of Canada ruled Mr. Justice Whittaker's order should not be interfered with.

New flag presented to Westbank Guides

WESTBANK—In an impressive service of dedication, conducted in St. George's Anglican Church on Sunday, February 20, by the Rev. A. A. Northrup, a new flag was presented to the First Westbank Girl Guide Company. Parading also for the service were the Brownies and Cubs.

Visitors for the occasion were District Commissioner D. G. March, Miss Ferris, captain of the First Kelowna Company, Mrs. Short, Brown Owl from Glenmore, and two Scoutmasters from Kelowna.

Undoubtedly the Guides, Brownies and Cubs present carried with them from this service a new realization of the significance of the flag and the esteem in which it is held.

One-half of the cost of the flag was very kindly met by the Women's Institute.

After the service, tea was served to the visitors at the home of Mrs. A. F. Johnson, who is captain of the Company.

PTA dance held at East Kelowna

ELLISON—Final arrangements were made for the P-T-A dance, which was held in East Kelowna Community hall last Friday, when the district council met in the Ellison school recently.

Walter Rutzlaff presided at the meeting which included delegates from Kelowna, Glenmore, Ellison, East Kelowna, Delvoulain and Mission Creek.

R. C. Pethybridge reported on the address "The Miracle of Learning" by Prof. Stanley Head, which was sponsored by the Kelowna and District P-T-A Council. He also announced that the council will sponsor an address by Dr. Henrietta Anderson, of Victoria, later on this year.

Reports were given by each delegate on the work of their home group and discussion followed the reports.

Refreshments were served by the Ellison P-T-A.

Father and son banquet held at Okanagan Mission

OKANAGAN MISSION—A large group of Scouts and Cubs attended the annual father and son banquet held in the community hall last week. "Proceedings were opened by a lusty singing of O Canada accompanied on the piano by Bob Hayman. Grace was said by A. F. Drake after which all sat down to an excellent supper. Roast beef, followed by apple pie was served by members of the Girl Guide Association.

When supper was over, Scoutmaster Hugh Caley proposed a toast to The Queen. This was followed by Scout Lloyd Schmidt proposing "Our Dads," which was responded to by Tommy Hughes, who then gave "Our Sons."

Chairman's remarks by A. F. G. Drake came next, who wound up with a toast to "Our Chief," Lord Baden-Powell. This was responded to by Ken Dobson, scoutmaster from Coldstream, Vernon, who gave a very inspiring talk on this subject.

During the intermission period Mrs. Ken Dobson showed some color slides of a trip to Peter's Lake, while Mr. Dobson did the commentary. R. Doeksen, senior, completely mystified his audience with some very clever conjuring acts which were greatly appreciated.

During the evening, Mr. A. F. G. Drake presented two "thanks badges," the first to Hugh Dunlop as a small token of appreciation for services rendered to scouting during fifteen years as a member of the group committee, 1939-1954. The second to Ian Dunlop for his services as scoutmaster of the First Okanagan Mission Scout Troop for eight years, 1946-1954. During his term of office traditions were established in outdoor scouting that succeeding generations of scouts will have difficulty in surpassing.

The Okanagan Mission Guide and Brownie Association held a box supper for mothers and daughters in the Mission School last Monday. Approximately 70 turned out to celebrate the birthdays of the founders Lord and Lady Baden-Powell.

Tea and apple juice were served. Mrs. E. Weiss being in charge of the kitchen assisted by Mrs. H. Vickers. When supper was over, one or two ceremonies took place, including a candlelighting ceremony to represent guiding all over the world.

Games were organized, followed by singing round the campfire which concluded a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. The distinguished guest of the evening was Mrs. T. Marsh, the district commissioner.

Capt. Mrs. G. Mills was in charge of Guides while Mrs. B. Smith assisted by Mrs. R. Claydon were in charge of Brownies.

The week at Ottawa

Specially Written for The Courier By DON PEACOCK Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA—The first major debate in some years on immigration policy and practice has stirred the Commons.

It was touched off by Davie Fulton (P.C.-Kamloops) who charged the government last week with reducing immigration in the last two years and planning for "little Canada."

"A planned, vigorous policy of selective immigration to bring in more people is in keeping with the best interests of all sections of our country," he said as he moved a motion of non-confidence in the government.

The motion said immigration policy is neither clear, consistent nor in keeping with Canada's needs and responsibilities. Its administration denied "simple justice" both to Canadians and non-Canadians.

CCF and Social Credit speakers joined the criticism. Many cited cases they felt had been treated unfairly.

The debate was the first major test for Immigration Minister Pickersill since he took over the department last summer from Hon. Walter Harris, now finance minister.

Mr. Pickersill said Canada's population has risen by 25 percent since 1947. Counting 250,000 Newfoundlanders added by confederation "it is a very rapid rate of growth indeed. I question very much whether it could have been much faster."

Then, in a two-hour speech, he replied to criticism on various points.

He said the law requires immigration officials to ask questions concerning the private lives of would-be immigrants. Such information should not be disclosed to relatives in Canada or to lawyers.

Parliament had decided there should be no appeal from departmental rulings. There would be large legal costs in meeting the number of appeals likely to result from such a provision.

As for the denial of rights, the only right given to Canadians seeking to bring in relatives was to make an application and have it decided on. "Aliens had no fundamental right to enter Canada. That was a privilege and a matter of domestic policy."

The debate continued, with John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Prince Albert) accusing the department of arrogance and abuse of authority. Its operations amounted to "uncontrolled despotism of unknown bureaucrats sitting in a star chamber."

After 2½ days of debate the house voted 111 to 62 to defeat the Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence.

Winding up the debate Finance Minister Harris rejected opposition arguments that "would-be" immigrants should have an appeal to the courts against departmental decisions. The courts could deal with a quota system but that would be too rigid in times of economic difficulty when it was desirable to reduce immigration.

"A flexible policy in which a minister of the government would be responsible to parliament has always been the basis upon which immigration was permitted into Canada," said Mr. Harris.

MR. DREW RETURNS

Thunderous applause greeted Opposition Leader George Drew on his return after a long but successful recovery from an attack of meningitis last fall.

Members on either side of the aisle, Mr. Drew, fit and smiling, took his seat for the first time this session. Prime Minister St. Laurent stepped to the centre of the aisle to shake hands and chat with the leader of the Opposition more eloquently than anything I can say how happy we are to see him back... and how gratified we are to see with our own eyes that this period of rest has restored him completely to his usual good health and his accustomed robust vigor.

I am inclined to think that it (the Commons) will be a more lively place now that he is back again." Rev. E. G. Hansell (S.C.-MacLeod) speaking in the absence of Social Credit Leader Low, said: "It gives us pleasure indeed to welcome back to the House the leader of the official Opposition."

Mr. Drew said the words of the Prime Minister. Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Hansell "have touched me more than I can say. Certainly this is one of the happiest days of my life."

ATOMIC POWER

Federal planners are trying to work out a long-range program for integrating atomic power with other energy sources in Canada. Over-all fuel and energy policy covering all types of power is the eventual aim of an informal inter-departmental committee of top men in the federal power field.

Informants told The Canadian Press, however, that it will be several months at least before the committee's studies get to the stage of general recommendations to the government.

Trade Minister Howe indicated the government is being cautious about rushing atomic energy development because of its relationship to coal-produced electricity.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) asked Mr. Howe about steps being taken by the United Kingdom to set up atomic power plants.

Mr. Howe, in charge of atomic energy for the federal government, replied that the cost of coal in Canada is considerably less than in the U.K. "We feel that we should not attempt to develop power that will not be competitive in cost with power produced from coal," he said.

However, he expected "the time is not too far distant when we shall be able to announce a program..."

Mr. Howe's statement was made before a background of recurrent distress signals from the Canadian coal industry in the East and the West. Maritime coal spokesmen are planning to send a delegation shortly to ask federal help in expanding their markets.

Valentine tea nets funds for Red Cross relief

OKANAGAN CENTRE—St. Valentine's day was celebrated in a big way February 14 in the local school when the teachers and pupils in the name of the Junior Red Cross, put on a Valentine tea.

The fair was well attended and two films produced by the National Film Board and shown by the principal, O. A. Erwin, were much enjoyed. First was on the pulp and paper industry as filmed at the huge works at Powell River; it showed the operations from the falling of trees to the finished product being shipped. The second reel was a performance of the Toronto Symphony orchestra with Sir Ernest MacMillan conducting.

Miss Pauline Bradshaw, assisted by the upper grade girls, was in charge of the tea. Proceeds netted $11.00 for overseas relief work.

Librarian of the local branch of the Okanagan Union Library reports an output of 109 books here for the month of January. Last week the supply van came in with a new supply of books.

Mr. S. J. Land has been in Ottawa for the past fortnight as one of the representatives of the BCF CA to the Canadian Horticultural Conference in that city.

Centre branch of St. Margaret's Guild met at the home of Mrs. Land. Report was made on the recently-held rummage sale which showed satisfactory returns considering the limited attendance. Arranging the limited attendance, another sale is planned for early spring.

IRISH SCOUT

TIMAGAMI, Ont.—The Timagami Boy Scout troop will sponsor a scout from Ireland to enable him to attend the world Scout jamboree at CCF Leader Coldwell said: "We are extremely glad to see him here August."

Huge backlog in sidewalk construction

To construct a curb or not to construct a curb sparked a debate by city council Monday night. The matter was a hangover from a previous meeting when a request had been received by property owners on the east side of Abbott between Birch and Morrison for a construction under the local improvement bylaw of a boulevard curb.

Alderman Melke's public works committee had been asked to investigate and he reported that if the city allowed a curb to be constructed it would tend to defeat the main objective which is the construction of a sidewalk. Also the construction of a curb would drive pedestrian traffic to the roadway, creating some additional traffic problems.

In the general discussion which followed many suggestion were made and picked to pieces.

PAY FULL COST

Alderman Melke suggested that if a curb alone should be allowed the owners should pay the full cost as such a small amount would be involved. (About $100 per 100 ft.)

A curb on one side and a sidewalk eventually on the other was suggested with the east side owners bearing part of the cost of the sidewalk. [This was not practical as it would require an order-in-council in Victoria.]

Mayor Ladd said he felt it would be better to have a curb with the lawn built to it and kept tidy than a sidewalk and boulevard where the boulevard was not tended by the property owner but left to the city's care.

Alderman Dick Parkinson felt that a curb alone on certain short, quiet streets might be justified but not on a long street.

Alderman Melke pointed out that approved sidewalk construction under the local improvement bylaw for this year now totalled $55,000 of which the city would pay $25,000 and he did not see how any further construction could be undertaken this year. Mayor Ladd pointed out that they would just have to take their turn and be done in the order received.

MATTERS TABLED

It was pointed out that a good many thousands of dollars were now tied up in local improvement bylaws and it would be unfair to alter policy now, especially in any suggestion involving a joint payment for a single sidewalk.

In order that thinking might be clarified the matter was shelved for one week.

Council also received a petition for another curb. This was for the west side of Maple between Riverside and Lake. The owners on the petition had not been checked by the city clerk.

Rutland

RUTLAND—Several local residents are patients in the Kelowna Hospital, among them are George Day, Clyde Dexter, George Reith and William Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. R. MacRae, and son Jimmy who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Leeks, left last week for their home in Flaxcombe, Saskatchewan.

The Homemaker Service of the Canadian Red Cross assisted more than 4,000 families in 1954.

CLEANING UP

TORONTO—Retired Col. J. E. L. Streight recently sent £4 to a South African firm from which he purchased material more than 50 years ago. He said he was called away from South Africa suddenly without making the payment. The debt was £3 to which he added £1.

When Hurricane Hazel struck with sledgehammer fury YOUR RED CROSS WAS READY

More than 75 persons lost their lives on that terrifying night of relentless destruction.

Homes were swept along rivers like corks. Roads and bridges were washed away.

Separated families searched frantically for lost ones through the howling night. 100 million dollars worth of property was destroyed.

Hours before the news became headlines, Red Cross Disaster Service units were on the scene, trained and organized to give immediate relief services.

Mobile canteens served both flood victims and heroic rescue workers. Blankets, clothing, food and other necessities were rushed to the scene. Emergency shelter was set up for service. Wherever disaster strikes in Canada, your Red Cross is there helping to save lives and alleviate suffering. The work of mercy never ends.

Charter will be presented to first Buddhist troop at local ceremony tonight

JAMES J. KITAURA

Canadian Scouting history will be made here tonight when a charter will be presented to a Buddhist Boy Scout Troop.

This is the first Boy Scout group ever sponsored in Canada by the Buddhist church. Scoutmaster is James J. Kitaura, who first started scouting as a boy under the leadership of A. W. Gray, in Rutland.

Dennis Reid, president of the Central Okanagan Boy Scout group committee, will officially present the charter at a ceremony in the Scout Hall. There are 12 boys in the troop.

The troop will receive its charter through the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scout Association, under the powers granted by an act of parliament. Special permission from Scout International was required to adjust the Scout Promise to suit this particular religion.

Ceremony will be televised.

Executive commissioner visits city

One of the highlights in Scouting last year was the visit to Kelowna of F. J. Finlay, Boy Scout executive commissioner. Mr. Finlay is shown conferring with Des Oswell, district scoutmaster.

Record number of youths in the Central Okanagan joined Scout movement

This past year has seen a new record set in the enrollment of boys in the Scout movement in the Central Okanagan. Over 600 boys are now enjoying and participating in the Scout program. This is more than double the total number enrolled only three years ago.

The following are registered troops and packs of the Central Okanagan.

1st Peachland Wolf Cub Pack—Cubmaster H. Burkelund. Meets at the Municipal Hall on Tuesdays.

1st Westbank Boy Scout Troop—Scoutmaster A. M. Thompson, Assistant Scoutmaster Rex Hardwick. Meets at the Community Hall on Mondays.

Main objective of Guides is to teach girls become good citizens

The Girl Guide movement has only one reason for its existence: to teach our girls to become good citizens.

There are many facets of good citizenship, some of them obvious and some of them not quite so obvious. It is natural that the Guide movement should stress love of country, obedience to its laws and the encouragement of enforcement of those laws.

In doing so, the movement teaches its members to become good citizens. But it goes further than this. It also encourages them to accept their responsibilities as good citizens should. It teaches them to exercise the franchise which will be theirs when they come of age; it encourages them to take part in civic and national movements which are designed to further the interests of the community or the nation.

GREAT CONTRIBUTION

One of the aspects of good citizenship which is too frequently overlooked is the effect of the home upon the nation.

The Girl Guide movement teaches the girls to become good women, good wives and good parents. This, perhaps, is its greatest contribution to the individual and the nation.

Who, indeed, is there who will say that the woman who raises a family instilled with the virtues of good citizenship is not a better citizen than the woman who makes an effective contribution to civic or national life in the public sphere?

If the Girl Guide movement in Canada does no more than teach its young women members to become good wives, it is performing a most notable contribution to the nation and, even more so, to those individuals concerned.

The Girl Guide movement is an effective force for good in Canada. No girl ever suffered for having belonged to it; many have become better women for having belonged to it.

NEARLY 7,000 SCOUTS UNITS

There are now 6,974 Scout units in Canada, including 3,091 Wolf Cub Packs, 2,995 Boy Scout Troops and 288 Rover Scout crews. The new census figures show that at the end of 1954 there were 352 more Cub packs, 235 more Scout troops and 29 more Rover crews than a year before. Included in these figures are six overseas Scout groups operated for the sons of Canadian Armed Forces personnel in Europe.

Turning over canned goods to the Salvation Army is another good turn Boy Scouts and Cubs of Kelowna and District did last year. Above picture shows Major W. Fitch, of the Salvation Army receiving goods from Robert Garry and Michael McTaggart, First Glenora Cub Pack; Lloyd Schmidt and Craig Hayman, First Okanagan Mission Scout troop.

Rutland Boy Scout group sponsors enjoyable father and son banquet

RUTLAND—The Rutland Boy Scout group committee sponsored an enjoyable Father and Son banquet in the cafeteria at the High School last week.

Ladies of the auxiliary, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Johnson did a fine job catering for the affair. Wolf Cubs and Boy Scouts attended with their fathers and members of the local executive.

Additional guests included Dennis Reid, president of the Central Okanagan Boy Scouts Association, District Scoutmaster Drs. Oswald and his assistant, H. M. Willet.

Chairman George Whittaker introduced the head table guests, and then called upon Mr. Reid to address the gathering. In his brief talk, the speaker stressed the need for the parents to take an active interest in the Scout movement, and to become active members of the local committee. To the boys he told of the happy memories that he had as the result of many years in the Rutland Cub Pack and Scout troop.

He urged the boys to take in all the camps and activities they could, for they would find as they grew older, that these experiences would be looked back on as some of the happiest of their lives.

He also urged every Scout that could qualify, to try to take in the forthcoming International Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Scoutmaster Bert Chichester reported on the activities of the Scout troop. Their numbers had now increased to where it was possible to form four patrols. The troop had held three successful camps in the past year, the summer camp at Okanagan Centre, a short camp in the Greystoke country in August, and a winter camp near Deep Creek, between Christmas and New Years. He had been encouraged by the location.

amount of help received, from the group committee, and from Assistant Scoutmasters Dendy and Cliff Schell, and others.

Cubmaster Jack Davidson told of the Cub Pack's progress. They had 24 boys, all very keen, and he thought that there would be no trouble getting a second pack going. If the leaders could be found, the Rutland pack had made a good showing at the district Cub jamboree, winning a shield. Most of the Cubs had passed their Tenderpad and First Star and many were more than halfway toward their Second Star. District Scoutmaster Des Oswald spoke briefly, expressing satisfaction at the progress being made in Rutland. Like Dennis Reid, he, too, had started his scouting with the Rutland Troop. He also commented on the forthcoming inauguration of the Buddhist troop, to take place in Kelowna on Thursday next, this being the first such troop in Canada. The Scoutmaster, Jim Kitaura, was also a former Rutland Cub, Scout and Scoutmaster.

The meeting adjourned to the gymnasium, where the Wolf Cubs put on a number of Jungle Dances. Scouts amused the guests with several skits, and young Harry Johnson showed his prowess at rope spinning. This was followed by the showing of a number of interesting color films by Scoutmaster Chichester. As a result of the affair the ladies of the auxiliary had taken in a gross of $48, and to this was added an equal amount from the proceeds of a raffle. Winners of the raffle were: 1st Wanda Hyman; 2nd George Reith. A canvass of the district will be made shortly for memberships in the local Scout Association fund.

Findlay visited and leaders from all points of the Valley were in attendance.

Leaders Training Course—Held in the Kelowna Scout Hall to increase and improve the quality of leadership within the movement. Eighteen leaders of the Central Okanagan attended the four day course.

December—Canned goods campaign for the needy at Christmas. Organized by Scoutmaster Hugh Caley and District Scoutmaster Des Oswald over 300 tins of canned food were collected and presented to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy of the Central Okanagan.

February, 1955—Scout Week church parade. All troops and cub packs are attending Church services within their own districts in memory and observation of the founder of Scouting, Lord Baden-Powell.

WESTBANK—The birthday of Lord Baden-Powell is commemorated by Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies in the observance of "Thinking Week." This year it was celebrated in Westbank by the entertaining of their mothers by the Guides and Brownies at a box tea in the George Pringle High School last Monday.

Mrs. A. F. Johnson, captain of the Guides, welcomed the guests. After the call to order, the Guides formed their "horshoe" and the Brownies their "fair ring." The Brownies sang their Brownie song and their six songs around the toast-stool. The "living-up" ceremony followed, in which Brownies Jean Ingram and Dianne Springer "flew up" to the Guides.

The candlelight ceremony, honoring the birthday of the founder of the Scout movement, came next, with the Brownies forming a ring round the guides.

After the singing of God Save the Queen and taps, the girls escorted their mothers to a very pleasant tea in the tea-room.

The observance of "Thinking Week" will come to a end on Sunday, February 27, with a parade to the United Church by the Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs at 7:30 p.m.

The candlelight ceremony, honoring the birthday of the founder of the Scout movement, came next, with the Brownies forming a ring round the guides.

ANOTHER OVERSEAS SCOUT GROUP

Canada now has another Boy Scout group overseas, and a large one, too. Now in addition to the Scout groups serving sons of RCAF personnel in Europe, there is an active Scout group at Soest, Germany.

Known as the Canadian Red Patch Scout group, it serves some 200 sons of Canadian Army personnel serving with the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade in West Germany.

Robert Hunt, a well-known Toronto Scoutmaster now serving on the school teaching staff at Soest, played a prominent role in organizing the new Canadian Scout Group there.

Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, CBE, DSO, director of the Boy Scouts International Bureau, recently paid an official visit to the newly-formed Scout group at Soest, which includes Wolf Cubs and Boy Scouts.

Principal D. H. Campbell introduced the speaker for the evening, Miss Jean Craig, a member of the teaching staff, recently from Scotland. Mr. Campbell also took the opportunity to welcome those from other PTA groups and expressed the hope that they would continue to attend meetings other than their own. Miss Craig, spoke on the land of her birth, "Scotland", and her talk proved very interesting and informative.

Miss Craig said she did not come as an exchange teacher as she wanted to spend more than one year in Canada. She was impressed by the vastness of the country. She told of her first view of the valley, from the highway above Osoyoos, and how she worked in orchards in the Penticton district, before joining the Rutland school staff last fall. She spoke of the ties between Canada and Scotland, and quoted Dr. Leonard Brockington's recent statement that Canada has the second most Scottish people in the world. The frugality of the Scottish people, in some mistaken for meanness, was due to the living conditions in the highland country. All Scots were keen on education, and many young people were put through college by the sacrifices and careful saving of their parents.

This history of Scotland was one of conflict, with the Romans, the Norsemen, and the English. The recent disappearance of the historic Stone of Scone from the City of London might lead some to think that the Scots were still at war with the English. She referred to the highland clothing and emphasized that only men wore the kilt in Scotland. She spoke of the scenery of the country, and its attraction for tourists, and while admitting that it was frequently obscured by mists and rain, claimed that the talk proved very interesting and informative.

Miss Craig said she did not come as an exchange teacher as she wanted to spend more than one year in Canada. She was impressed by the vastness of the country. She told of her first view of the valley, from the highway above Osoyoos, and how she worked in orchards in the Penticton district, before joining the Rutland school staff last fall. She spoke of the ties between Canada and Scotland, and quoted Dr. Leonard Brockington's recent statement that Canada has the second most Scottish people in the world. The frugality of the Scottish people, in some mistaken for meanness, was due to the living conditions in the highland country. All Scots were keen on education, and many young people were put through college by the sacrifices and careful saving of their parents.

This history of Scotland was one of conflict, with the Romans, the Norsemen, and the English. The recent disappearance of the historic Stone of Scone from the City of London might lead some to think that the Scots were still at war with the English. She referred to the highland clothing and emphasized that only men wore the kilt in Scotland. She spoke of the scenery of the country, and its attraction for tourists, and while admitting that it was frequently obscured by mists and rain, claimed that the talk proved very interesting and informative.

Rutland teacher gives talk on homeland

RUTLAND—Over 100 persons attended the regular monthly meeting of the Rutland P-TA last week at the high school. Many visitors were present from other P-TA groups in the district and Mrs. Alex Bell, president, welcomed them and expressed pleasure at seeing such a goodly number present.

The meeting decided against sending a delegate to the convention in April, due to the distance involved, the site of the convention this year being Nanaimo. The attendance plaque for the most parents at the meeting was won by Mr. Lee, teacher of Grades IV and V.

Principal D. H. Campbell introduced the speaker for the evening, Miss Jean Craig, a member of the teaching staff, recently from Scotland. Mr. Campbell also took the opportunity to welcome those from other PTA groups and expressed the hope that they would continue to attend meetings other than their own. Miss Craig, spoke on the land of her birth, "Scotland", and her talk proved very interesting and informative.

LOCAL COUPLE RETURN HOME

Deep sea fishing in Gulf of Mexico highlighted 11,000-mile motor trip through Southern United States and Mexico.

Most thrilling experience of his 11,000-mile motor trip that took him through the Central States, down to Mexico, and back up through San Diego and Long Beach, California, was a deep-sea fishing jaunt on the Gulf of Mexico, which netted him a fair-sized fish, according to Mr. R. J. Buchanan who returned to Kelowna last week.

Speaking of Mexico, he said the country is a land of poverty-stricken people and yet a land of very rich too. Spread across its desert lands are little villages of mud huts with no sign of any means of livelihood. Usual sight is a half-dressed Mexican with his burro.

IMPROVE STANDARDS

Mexico is striving to improve its standards. Compulsory education to grade six is now a law but this cannot be carried out throughout the whole land because of the acute shortage of schools. Every effort is being made to provide the necessary educational facilities. Mexico strives to improve her foreign exchange but the only tangible asset is tourist attractions. Guides and policemen have been instructed to exercise courtesy to the tourists and to overlook minor law infractions, if necessary, to encourage goodwill toward Mexico.

Cathedrals of Mexico are impressive sights and one which the guides point out with pride. The Buchanans were privileged to view the largest Cathedral on the North American continent. Built in 1519, it has nine altars, all overlaid with 22 carat gold leaf. Mexico is 95 percent Catholic, of course. In one settlement of five to six square miles in area there are 385 cathedrals, one for every day of the year. Each of its many churches has an interesting story in its past.

Unknown to many people are Mexico's pyramids which have been unearthed in the last few years. The particular one which the Buchanans saw was 480 feet square and tapered up 284 feet to a point. Visitors are permitted to ascend the stairs, built in the rock, to the very peak. It is estimated that these pyramids were built about 500 B.C. Nearby, an ancient city was also unearthed. A well with rock and cement cribbing was discovered and Mexicans who live nearby are now using the water from the well. Cement used in those days was very smooth and contained a sort of powdered mica. It cannot be duplicated today.

GOOD RESTAURANTS

Good restaurants in Mexico serve tasty meals for about the same prices as in Canada. There are many cheaper places where a meal

Local W.I. members look back on active year

Though the membership of the Kelowna Women's Institute is limited the accomplishments during the past year are not so small. The hall, on Glenn Ave., was redecorated this year. Open house was held after the work was completed and the ladies provided a program of music and dancing for those attending the afternoon tea.

The ladies were privileged to hear a number of interesting talks on agriculture, United Nations, home economics, and to see such films as "Everybody's Handicapped," "Behind the Menu" and "Whenever you Eat."

Charitable endeavors were many and varied including the following: making Christmas decorations for the senior citizens home, knitting comforts for the sick and victims of the Greek earthquake, donating valentine motifs to the Korean clothing, March of Dimes, Korean barley fund, Sunnyvale School, Mrs. Watt Memorial Fund, and toward the purchase of sewing machines for India. A Christmas box was sent to an old lady in the home at Nelson, and sewing was done for the children's Solorium, by some of the members.

The adopted girl in Austria was the recipient of an Easter gift and a Christmas gift, as well as $50.00 cash.

The members of the Institute entered 22 pies into the B.C. Free Fruit and Pie contest. On one occasion a public display of handicrafts was staged by the convener in that department.

The organization was able to send a delegate to the provincial conference in Vancouver and the district conference in Penticton.

Eleven monthly meetings and three executive meetings were held during the year.

Valentine tea held by Peachland W.I.

PEACHLAND—The annual Valentine meeting of the Women's Institute was held last week. The hall was suitably decorated with valentines made by members which, when judged, showed Mrs. F. Witt winner of first prize donated by Mrs. K. Dome. Second prize went to Mrs. Selwyn, it being donated by Mrs. W. D. Miller. In the school section, grades one to six, the following were declared prize winners: Grade one, first, Margaret McNeil; second, Jerry Renneberg. Grade two, first, Johnnie Garraway; second, John Topham. Grade three, no entries. Grade four, first, John Topham; second, Francis McNeil. Grade five, first, Diane Ruffie; second, Karon Blower. Grade six, first, Sherrie Miller; second, Clare Lo Duke.

Westbank women observe world day of prayer

WESTBANK—The observance of Women's Day of Prayer will be held in St. George's Anglican Church on Friday, February 25, at 3:00 p.m. The service will be conducted jointly by the ladies of the Anglican, the Gospel Hall and the United Church congregations.

The offerings received at this world-wide service are used in the promotion of missionary work throughout the world. All ladies in the community are invited to attend.

On their way to Comox from Whitehorse, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hillier, with their small son, stopped over for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hewlett. They were four days on the journey from the north and reported travelling conditions as being good. Mr. Hillier is in the air force and is being transferred to Vancouver Island.

Jamie MacKay, of Kelowna, spent the week-end with his cousin Forbes MacKay.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paynter, with son Bobby, left on Tuesday, February 21, for Long Beach, California.

Mr. Dudley Pritchard has returned from a week-end trip to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenaken, of East Kelowna, spent Sunday with Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Kenaken's grandmother.

PTA Valentine dance is success

EAST KELOWNA—The community hall was artistically decorated with multi-colored streamers and valentine motifs, for the Valentine dance on Friday last, sponsored by the Kelowna and District P-TA. A large crowd danced to the music of Johnny Gattel and his music makers; refreshments were served, and the dance was rated very enjoyable and successful. The South Kelowna P-TA was responsible for the decorations, and the East Kelowna members were in charge of the kitchen.

Proceeds will go to the P-TA funds.

Mothers urged to attend local PTA meeting

All mothers, especially of pre-school children, are urged to attend the next regular meeting of the Kelowna Elementary P-TA to be held next Tuesday, March 1 at 8:00 p.m. in the Junior High school auditorium, when Dr. D. A. Clarke of the South Okanagan Health Unit will speak on "Polio Vaccine". A film entitled "So Much For So Little" will be shown by Mrs. K. Marshall, public health nurse. Discussion period will follow.

EXECUTIVE MEETING

Mrs. R. B. Flower and Mrs. E. R. Felly were elected to the nominating committee at the last executive meeting held recently.

It was also disclosed that proceeds from the annual school bazaar were used to buy books, films, and records, to the value of $170, for the Kelowna elementary schools.

PREFER CATS

WINNIPEG — Cats make better pets than dogs, say pupils of Chapman school. Cats are more intelligent, and easier to keep, was the decision when pupils of Grades 7 and 8 debated the question at a recent home and school meeting.

MRS. R. WINSBY DIRECTS KLT PLAY TO BE PRESENTED MARCH 15, 16

When New York, London, Paris and Berlin audiences put their mark of approval on a play, it is certain to be worth seeing.

MRS. ROY WINSBY

Such was the fate of "The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard, which Kelowna audiences will have the pleasure of seeing on the stage of the Empress Theatre, on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 15 and 16.

"The Late Christopher Bean" is the third three-act presentation of the season by the Kelowna Little Theatre, and will be directed by Mrs. Roy Winsby. In the cast will be Roy Lobb, Ruth Hall, Carmen Anderson, Reita Pitt, Jack Tait, Doug Pinfield, Frank Pitt, Mary Sundin, and Frank Ivacy.

Alice Winsby has been active in several Little Theatre productions. In 1952, she won the cup for best actress in the South Okanagan Zone Drama Festival, and the next year was seen in "Ah Wilderness", the Kelowna Little Theatre entry in the B. C. Regionals of the Canadian Drama Festival. Last Fall, Mrs. Winsby took the role of the crisp, efficient nurse in "Harvey".

Besides her acting roles, Alice Winsby has always been interested in directing, and last season, produced the stark one-act play, "Moment of Darkness". Her present directing job is concerned with a three-act comedy... a happy and eminently likeable play that will provide Kelowna audiences with two hours of fun. "The Late Christopher Bean", a hilarious story of the mad scramble for paintings which suddenly become valuable, in genuinely witty, fast-moving and gay.

Tickets for this Kelowna Little Theatre production, to be presented next month, are now available at Browns Prescription Pharmacy.

Under the tower at Ottawa

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

The Progressive Conservative Party moved an amendment when the House was going into supply to this effect: "In the opinion of this House the immigration policy of the government is not clear, consistent or co-ordinated. It is not in conformity with the needs and responsibilities of Canada and in its admission denies simple justice to Canadians and non-Canadians alike." Mr. Fulton charged the government with a lack of policy governing immigration. He also charged the officials who administer the present act as being inefficient and bureaucratic as recorded from the press report of the minister of immigration and the minister of agriculture to prove the variance in interpretation of government policy on immigration.

He went on to say that Canada needs a greater population and that those who have come in recent years have made a tremendous contribution to our growth culturally and economically. He criticized the power vested in the minister of immigration through which he keeps rigid control of the individual applicant seeking an entrance into this country. A great deal of his argument was based on the committee report filed by the Canadian Bar Association, which body during its convention at Winnipeg last year, condemned the immigration policy of Canada.

J. W. Noseworthy, speaking on behalf of the CCF, gave as his opinion that the department of immigration has become over the years nothing but a jungle of overgrowth and undergrowth composed of crammers in council, rules regulations and red tape to such an extent that it has become impossible for anyone to administer that Department effectively. He criticized the Government for the extent to which Canada is misrepresented to immigrants in their homeland. Also, by those who are interested in bringing them to Canada. He claimed that some of the misrepresentation has been made by employees or representatives of this Department, some by transportation companies, those who are interested in the traffic between the old world and the new, and others who wish to bring out cheap employment for Canadian industry. He also criticized the method of screening applicants for immigration which is now done through the RCMP and are often turned down without knowing that their trial is taking place. Neither is the immigrant given an opportunity to learn what the charges against him are, who has made the charges, nor can he defend himself against them. He pointed out it is the policy of the government to withhold such information from everyone, including members of parliament.

Several others, including Elmore Philpott and Angus MacInnis, spoke on behalf of the Atlantic people who have been given pretty rough treatment when seeking entry into Canada. At the time of writing this report the debate continues. If it has no other result than to stimulate a discussion and present facts to the government, it will have done some good.

On Tuesday last, Mrs. Fairclough introduced her private bill to provide equal pay for equal work of women. Support has come from members of all parties to the principle of the bill and excellent arguments have been made against the present discrimination. Mr. Gregg pointed out that forward steps have been taken inasmuch as his department now pay equally men and women doing similar work, and this applied, he claims, to several government departments. Another step was the appointment of a woman to head the establishment of a women's bureau in the department of labour. He also pointed out that at the present time a survey is being conducted on this very subject asking to establish the facts of the case and also if it is possible to bring forward legislation that will guarantee to women equal pay. Incidentally, this has already been carried out in England and seems to work satisfactorily. In spite of the support expressed by all parties, when the vote was finally taken it was defeated by 107 to 83. Mr. Knowles proposed an amendment to the Income Tax Act removing the 3 1/2 per cent floor in relation to the deductibility of medical expenses for income tax purposes. Mr. Knowles made an excellent case for the removal of this floor quoting the New York Times—"Take the matter of repair. All reasonable costs of necessary repairs to business property are good tax deductions but if an individual suffers illness he may not deduct medical expenses unless they exceed 3 per cent of his gross income." It goes on to say "my suggestion is to treat the taxpayer as a person no worse than we treat his property, at least let him deduct the cost of the repairs to his person without limitation. Following this line of argument Mr. Knowles pointed out that medical bills are accumulated beyond the control of the individual concerned and often take a large proportion of his income, and just as in the case of property all repairs to the human body should be deducted from income tax assessment. Although the minister of national health and welfare has expressed himself in favor of doing all he can to promote greater health benefits to the people of Canada, he could not agree that withdrawal of the 3 1/2 per cent floor would have that effect, and the minister of national revenue pointed out that the loss of revenue would amount to thirty million dollars which they could not afford at the present time. With this lead given to the government supporters, it was not surprising that the bill lost by 86 votes to 60.

Letters to the Editor

APPRECIATE PUBLICITY

The Editor, Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir—The executive of the Kelowna Ski Club extends its sincere thanks and appreciation for the wonderful publicity we received from the Courier in connection with our Kelowna invitation jumping tournament. Without the publicity we received we never would have been able to put on a successful jumping meet.

Again many thanks for your assistance.
Yours very truly,
KELOWNA SKI CLUB

EXPLAINS STAND

The Editor, Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir—For the information of those who have inquired and those who might be interested, would you please publish the following comment regarding the news story which you carried about the letter we have received from the local electrical union which stated that its members would not connect our work to the city lines.

The letter, in our opinion, was written in haste and has no factual basis. This union has no closed shop agreement with the City of Kelowna nor has it any such clause in the agreement which they have with the city.

Yours truly,
HAROLD A. FOULDS.

THE CURSE OF OGOPOGO

The Editor, The Kelowna Courier.
O Lord Mayor of Medicine Hat, You have taken the bag off the cat. Our eyes are open, and we can see who engineered the conspiracy. This deft stealing of an idol's eye Done in darkest night, and on the sly, Gouged out with chisel and iron rod, Our Ogoogoo's Kelowna God. God of the lake, and the sandy shore, Enshrined in cement, for evermore, God of the simple, and also the wise Attracts the tourist, brightens our lives.

Kelowna's his home, he there to see, Elegant in snake-like majesty, Look Behold! But may the villain die Who knocked out our Ogoogoo's eye.

But now at last, 'tis said, it's been found. But where? On your desk. Then you are bound To tell us why it came thus to you, This spoil of crime, that some others do.

So be careful, Mayor of the Hat. Fish is in the kettle, fire in the fat. You were well warned, now reap what you sow.

Hear then, the curse of Ogoogoo. You will from henceforth, be quite a nut. Go, with one eye open, one eye shut. Your alk hat in hand, collecting stones.

Ogoogoo eyes, and rags and bones, But if you would, this curse destroy Cense our good citizens to annoy. Give back the eye and make amends.

Rename your bridge, and let's all be friends.

KELOWNA JUNIOR BAND

The Editor, Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir—The members of the Kelowna Band Association are very pleased with the interest shown by "K. A." in band affairs as evidenced by his (her) letter in your paper of February 10.

K. A. was concerned over the possibility of Community Chest funds being used to finance the Kelowna Junior Band's proposed visit to the Calgary Stampede. No one can challenge his right to raise the question.

In reply to this the band association would like to say that as a member of the Community Chest its spending is carefully scrutinized by the finance committee of the Chest. Further, all monies the band has received through this source has been spent on the purchase of the larger band instruments and other justified expenses, such as repairs, uniforms, etc.

This proposed trip to Calgary is to be financed out of student projects such as bottle drives and concerts, plus service club aid and the help of our parents' auxiliary. The Kelowna Junior Band's trip to New Westminster in May, 1954, was financed in a similar manner. Thank you, "K. A." for your offer of a donation to the band in aid of the slated Calgary visit. Mr. C. E. Sladen, our treasurer, will be happy to receive it, and for it the Kelowna Junior Band will be most appreciative.

Yours truly,
GORDON POINTER,
Secretary Kelowna Band Ass'n.

Peachland PTA planning school fair March 11

PEACHLAND — The February meeting of the P-TA was held in the Municipal Hall Wednesday of last week with president, Mrs. Blower in the chair.

Blackout curtains for the school windows were made by Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Blower, the material and rods being purchased by the P-TA.

The school fair is to be held at the school on March 11, open house day. Tea will be served by the Junior Red Cross. It is hoped there will be a good turnout.

"Fund raising" was discussed and it was decided to hold a card party on April 6 in the Municipal Hall.

A donation of $5 was made to the high school curling team, who went to Trail earlier in the season. It was reported by the teachers that spoons for the school and a new record player are needed. This matter will be brought to the attention of the School Board.

The P-TA will host the rural teachers supper in April.

Mr. Parker's room won the attendance prize of $2.00.

Two dollars will be sent to the district council as a dance in the district prevented anyone from attending council dance in East Kelowna.

The next meeting of the P-TA is to be held Tuesday, March 15, when it is hoped to have J. Billyeald as guest speaker.

Membership drive was discussed with the hope that each member would bring a new member.

A film, "Gateway to Health," on dental care was shown. Clean your teeth with an apple, end your meal with a fruit was the theme of the picture.

Tea was served by Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Simey at the close of the evening.

SPORTS SPHERE

B.C. judo champion

Courtesy always pays dividends—but if there is one time when no mistake should be made, it is when Eddie Wohl of 580 Bernard is around.

Eddie, along with about thirty other Kelowna lads (aged 7 to 40) has for his major form of relaxation, a sport of which war time commandos made a profession—judo.

Eddie is no slouch at this scientific form of wrestling, either. Recently in Vancouver, he won first prize in his class (brown belt to white belt—words only for those in the know) in the annual B.C. Judo Championships. He is shown above with the cups he won for his prowess—and all after a mere 12 months in the "game."

"Hardest thing to learn," said Ed, "is how to fall. This may take two months or longer." After watching a few of the boys tangle, it becomes perfectly clear what he means and why he makes the statement.

S. Sasaki, president of the Canada Black Belt Association, will be visiting Kelowna in the near future to interview Mr. Wohl. Mr. Sasaki was impressed with Wohl's ability in the Vancouver judo tournament in view of the fact the latter had been training only a year. The local judo expert has been invited to compete in another tournament in Vancouver next month.

Pan American swimming, diving team to be invited here after tour of Japan

Efforts are being made to have the Pan-American men's national swimming and diving teams compete in this year's regatta, slated for August 10-13.

Regatta chairman Dick Parkinson said the U.S. team is scheduled to make an invitational tour of Japan immediately following the championships. They are due back August 6, the week-end before Kelowna's annual water splash, and there is every indication they will continue on to the Regatta city.

Kelowna Little Theatre has undertaken to produce the "Melody Under the Stars" show which will be presented the latter two nights at Osoyoos Stadium. Production is under the direction of Mrs. James Logie. Kelowna's 50th anniversary theme will be worked into the play.

More newer boats will be competing than ever before. Harold August, Regatta power boat representative, recently returned from Vancouver, and stated more boat owners from distant points, particularly in the U.S. will be competing.

WATER SKI CHAMPIONSHIPS
A move will also be made to have Canadian water ski championship staged here during the three-day splash.

Mrs. Billy McKellar, of Los Angeles, noted authority on synchronized swimming, will be back this year to take charge of the classes.

One of the U.S. top divers, Miss June Taylor, also plans to return. She won one of the five awards for outstanding performance on T. V. In 1954, will appear on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" T. V. show in New York on March 6.

Local shuttlers hold own in Valley tourney

Kelowna Badminton Club representatives to the North Okanagan Badminton tourney, held last week in Vernon, held their own against competing Valley clubs in practically all divisions. Complete results follow:

Ladies' singles—J. Motowilo, Ok Centre, beat Val Van Ackeren, Kel. 11-5, 11-3.

Ladies' doubles—J. Motowilo, Ok Centre and Val Van Ackeren, Kel. beat Mrs. Foote and Mrs. Herman Vernon, 15-3, 15-11.

Men's singles—Ches. Larson, Kel. beat Fred Stevens, Kel., 15-12, 15-8.

Men's doubles—Ches. Larson-Fred Stevens, Kel., beat Chris Dalin-Bill Dalin, Celista, 15-6, 15-11.

Mixed doubles—T. Wright and Miss Davies, Salmon Arm, beat C. Dalin and Miss Walters, Celista 7-10, 15-13, 15-11.

The Canadian Red Cross provides current weekly films for hospitalized veterans.

Local soccer club names new officers

"To promote amateur association football in Kelowna and District; and to keep the meaning of sportsmanship alive," are the aims of the newly-elected executive of the Kelowna Soccer Club, according to president Jim Adair.

The meeting, co-incident with the first practice of the Spring season, took place last Sunday. Other officers elected were: Jack Lomax, vice-president; Neil Paterson, secretary; Barney Woods, treasurer; Scotty Angus and Dick Lawson, managers; and Dave Jeffrey, publicity and statistics.

Although the practice drew a good turnout, club officials noted that new blood is most desirable. Anyone interested is invited to call any club member or turn-up at the City Park Oval any Sunday at 10:00 a.m.

Canucks win second game by 2-1 count

KAMLOOPS—Kamloops Elks lost a heartbreaker here Monday night by two goals to one, giving Vernon a two game edge in the best of seven Okanagan finals.

It was a hard, rough and far from attractive hockey game with victory going to the side who played the roughest. Referees Blair Peters and Bill Neilson had their roughest passage of the season from the fans who at times kept up a constant booing for minutes on end.

Elks had the misfortune to lose Joe Connors with a suspected fractured knee after a violent collision into the boards with Johnny Harms in the last minute of the first period. Joe had potted the first goal of the game four minutes before and was playing great hockey for the losers.

Art Davison tied up the score at 17:10 and the second period went scoreless. Don McLeod got the winner at 4:43 of the final and for the rest of the game the Elks tried desperately to equalize, coming close on many occasions. All four Vernon defencemen played a stand-out game while Hal Gordon was almost impassable.

SUMMARY
First period, 1, Kamloops, Connors as a spectator sport," said Adair, "we are most anxious to train good teams to play first-class football."

Peachland rink wins main event at Summerland 'spiel

The main part of Summerland's biggest bonspiel, ever came to a close just after midnight Sunday with Ken Fulk's Peachland rink emerging as the big winner of the "A" event and the accompanying Occidental Fruit Co. Trophy.

In all 42 rinks took part in the gala curling jamboree, with entries present from Midway, Osoyoos, Oliver, Penticton, Peachland, Kelowna and the hosting club. The giant rock-heaving contest got underway Wednesday and was watched by very large crowds all the time.

Fulk's trophy-winning rink was composed of himself, Ted Clement, Verne Cousins and Bud Simey. Runners-up in the main event was Summerland's Eden rink, composed of Harvey Eden (skip), Jack Raincock, Pete Eden and Ryan Lawley. Kelowna's Brownlee rink took the "B" event and the B.C. Fruit Shipping Trophy. Brownlee brothers, Bob, skip, Orville and Norman, and Herman McArthur, also won the "D" event. Runner-up was Westbank's John Brown rink. Peachland's Garroway rink won the "C" event, with the Glenn rink, comprised of Jack Glenn, Paul Sedlack, Jack Minette and Jack Serwa, coming second. In the "D" event, Kelowna's "Clow rink—Nels Clow, George Reid, Paul Manchur and J. Trewitt, came third.

The curling committee was composed of: Walter Toews (President of Summerland club); C. J. Bleasdale (hard-working secretary); Alphonse Munn and Ray Frederickson (entertainment), and the Ice Committee consisted of Sandy Munn, Jake Gazevel and Don Turnbull. The ladies' club served meals at all hours of the day and night, convened by Mrs. E. Wilson.

nors (Duke, Kerr), 14-5; 3, Vernon, Davison (McLeod) 17-10.
Second period, no scoring. Penalties, Agar, Slater (3).
